COMMENTS ON EXAMINER'S STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Commissioner for Patents

Sir:

Applicant notes with appreciation the receipt of a Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due dated April 20, 2009. Attached thereto is an Examiner's Statement of the Reasons for Allowance. It is asserted therein that "the prior art does not disclose an intense pulse light device having a light filter section aligned around the reflection mirror while forming a predetermined space therebetween and the flashlamp and the light filter section being relatively rotatable." It is axiomatic that a claim is properly allowable if the prior art fails to disclose or suggest a single aspect or limitation of the claimed invention. The above-quoted statement contained in the Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance implies that multiple claim limitations are necessary to distinguish the presently claimed invention of the applied prior art. Applicant respectfully traverses any such assertions.

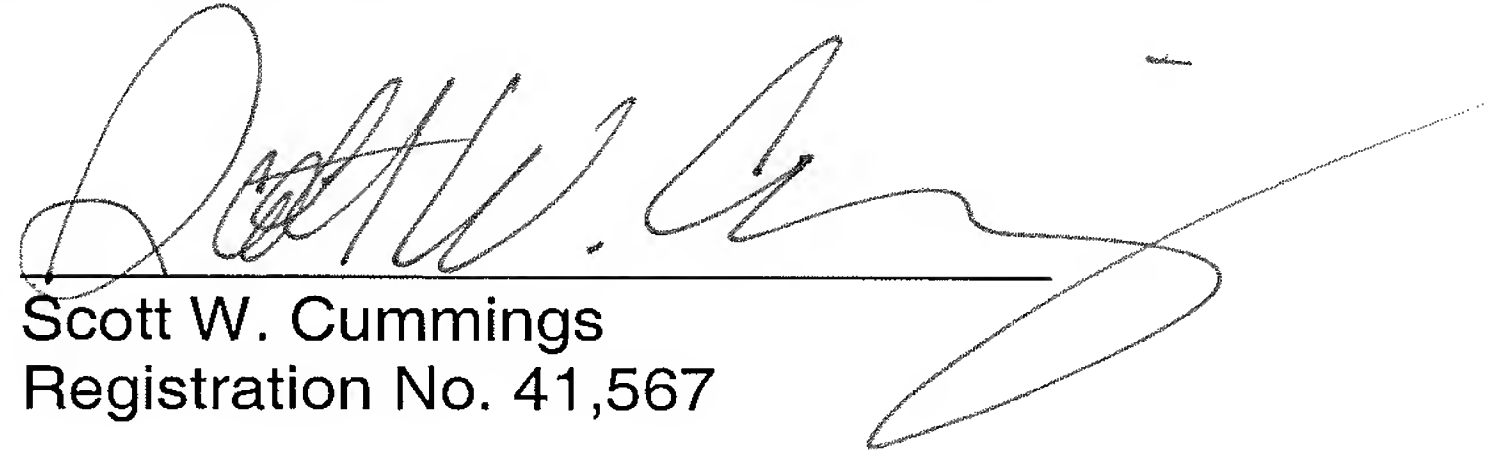

Applicant expressly wishes to avoid any negative inferences which could be drawn by an absence to challenge the above-quoted statement, or any other statements contained in the Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance.

Respectfully submitted,

BUCHANAN INGERSOLL & ROONEY PC
